INSTALLATION CODES NFPA 31, NFPA 54 & IRC

One of two Suggested Prerequisite Programs for Silver Certification

What you need to know about codes and more.

Codes and Standards that regulate the installation and maintenance of oil and gas (both natural and propane) fired appliances. This seminar has been developed and revised to provide a better understanding of the changes and updates in NFPA-31 (Standard for the Installation of Oil Burning Equipment, NFPA 54 (National Fuel Gas Code), and the 2009 IRC (International Residential Code).

These standards are widely used as references for municipalities and state code enforcement officials when enforcing existing codes and standards. They are also used to prosecute or defend subrogation and liability claims flooding the court system. A wide variety of materials will also include PA Labor & Industry regulations.

This seminar is designed for everyone involved in selling, estimating, installing and servicing oil and gas burning equipment and has been prepared for both technical and non-technical personnel.
