GAS FURNACE SERVICE & VENTING SEMINAR

PPMCSA and Steve Mohr will present this 1-day workshop designed to teach the new or experienced service technician about the principles and troubleshooting techniques of gas-fired equipment. Discussion will include all types of gas furnaces (pilot, spark, induced draft and recuperative). We will cover the differences in operation and venting of 90+ and 80+ furnaces, both single stage and two stage. Application and diagnostics of variable speed drive blower motors is also included. This seminar, which combines field experience with lecture, is ideal for servicemen.
