GOLD CERTIFICATION SEMINAR

CRITERIA FOR GOLD CERTIFICATION:

- ❖ Completion and passage of the Silver National Certificate Program
- ❖ Minimum of five years of experience as an oil heat technician
- ❖ Minimum of 120 hours of training

Using the New NORA Gold Technician Book, "Efficient Oilheat, An Energy Conservation Guide," to better help the oilheat service technician to understand:

- The potential energy in heating oil;
- How and where heat energy is lost before it reaches the living space of the building or the hot water faucet;
- The various types of efficiency measurements and what they mean;
- How to be sure your customer is getting the most heat for their money from their existing system. Understanding free and low-cost energy conservation strategies, including proper tune-up and adjustment, as well as common sense conservation advice we can give our customers;
- How to evaluate various energy conservation investments available;
- How to advise customers on investing in new equipment, including sales techniques, and how to calculate return on investment;
- How to maximize savings opportunities without reducing safety, reliability and comfort.

Following a review of the guide, a corresponding test will be administered which will be returned to the NORA Education Center for processing. A grade of 78% is needed for passing. Technicians will be notified of their grades by mail and certification will be posted in their account on the NORA web site, www.noraed.org.

GOLD MANUALS WILL BE SENT TWO WEEKS PRIOR TO THE SCHEDULED PROGRAM. It is very important that the applicant spends the appropriate amount of time studying the guide prior to attending the seminar.

MANUALS MUST BE BROUGHT ALONG TO THE PROGRAM.
